Prevent Duty

Preventing Radicalisation in school

Building resilience in our young people and the promotion of fundamental British values is at the heart of preventing radicalisation. We do this by providing a safe place in which children can discuss issues, and we aim to give them the knowledge and confidence to challenge extremist beliefs and ideologies.

Our new prevent duty, is carried out under the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015, which legally requires us to take steps to prevent pupils from being drawn into terrorism. We take this duty seriously and carry out the four main actions responsibly, namely: risk assessment, working in partnership, staff training and IT policies. If we assess a child as at risk, we will refer to the Channel Programme, which focuses on providing support at an early stage to people who are identified as being vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism.

We recognise that we play a vital role in keeping children safe from harm, including from the risks of extremism and radicalisation, and in promoting the welfare of children in our care.

What we do if there is a concern

If we have a concern about a particular pupil we will follow the school's normal safeguarding procedures, including discussing with the school's designated safeguarding lead, and where deemed necessary, with children's social care.

We may also contact the local police force or dial 101 (the non-emergency number). They can talk to us in confidence about concerns and help us gain access to support and advice.

The Department for Education has dedicated a telephone helpline (020 7340 7264) to enable staff and governors to raise concerns relating to extremism directly. Concerns can also be raised by email to counter.extremism@education.gsi.gov.uk. Please note that the helpline is not intended for use in emergency situations, such as a child being at immediate risk of harm or a security incident. In an emergency situation we will follow the recommended emergency procedures.

Prevent Risk Assessment

Introduction

Everyone who comes into contact with children and their families has a role to play in safeguarding children. Schools have a duty of care to their pupils and staff which includes safeguarding them from the risk of being drawn into terrorism - this includes not just violent extremism but also non-violent extremism, which can create an atmosphere conducive to terrorism and can popularise views which terrorists exploit. Schools should be safe spaces in which children and young people can understand and discuss sensitive topics, including terrorism and the extremist ideas that are part of the terrorist ideology and learn how to challenge these ideas.

School staff are particularly important as they are in a position to identify concerns early and provide help for children, to prevent concerns from escalating. Schools and colleges and their staff form part of the wider safeguarding system for children. This system is described in statutory guidance Working Together to Safeguard Children (2023) and Keeping Children Safe in Education (2024). Schools and colleges should work with social care, the police, health services and other services to promote the welfare of children and protect them from harm. Radicalisation is listed as a specific safeguarding issue within this statutory guidance and is addressed within the Government Prevent Strategy. The Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015 places a duty on Schools to "have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism".

The Prevent Strategy has three main objectives:

- Respond to the ideological challenge of terrorism & the threat we face from those who promote it;
- Prevent people from being drawn into terrorism and ensure that they are given appropriate advice and support;
- Work with sectors and institutions where there are risks of radicalisation which we need to address.

Prevent Risk Assessment

Chetwynd Junior School recognises that it has a duty under Section 26 of the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act, 2015, in the exercise of its functions, to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism.

Duty	What this means	Action
The Vision and values and curriculum of the school promote resilience against extremist ideologies and promote British values	The school values clearly set out our commitment to British values.	• Strong focus from our vision and values • Values include a commitment to tolerance, diversity and mutual respect
Prevent Lead	The school has identified a Prevent Lead (Assistant Head)	• All staff know who the Prevent Lead is and that this person acts as a source of advice and support.
Governors carry out their role to monitor the school's Prevent strategy effectively.	Governors have a good understanding of their duty.	• All governors have read our child protection policy and Keeping Children Safe in Education (2024). • We have a dedicated safeguarding link governor that oversees our compliance with the Prevent duty. • We provide additional training for governors on roles and expectations.
Staff assess the risk of children being drawn into terrorism	Staff can demonstrate a general understanding of the risks affecting children and young people	• All staff attended Safeguarding Training September 2024 • All staff have read "Keeping Children Safe in Education", Sep 2024 • The Prevent Lead has informed staff of their duties as set out in "The Prevent Duty Guidance" (DfE, December 2023). • All staff have completed Prevent Training in person or online (Home Office)
	Staff can identify individual children who may be at risk of radicalisation and how to support them.	• The Prevent Lead has informed staff about signs and indicators of radicalisation.
	There is a clear procedure in place for protecting children at risk of radicalisation.	• All staff have read the Safeguarding Policy which includes a statement regarding the school's "Prevent" duty. • All staff understand how to record and report concerns regarding risk of radicalisation.

Speakers and Events
Prohibit extremist speakers and events in the school	The school exercises "due diligence" in relation to requests from external speakers and organisations using school premises.	• Request an outline of what the speaker intends to cover/meet prior to event • Research the person/organisation to establish whether they have demonstrated extreme views/actions. • Visitors are never left alone with children. Deny permission for people/organisations to use school premises if they have links to extreme groups.
Working in Partnership
The school is using existing local partnership arrangements in exercising its Prevent duty.	Staff record and report concerns in line with existing policies and procedures.	• All staff record and report concerns to the Prevent Lead or DSLS • School leaders stay up to date with local developments and risks. • The school is in regular communication with local police (PCSO) • Member of the safeguarding team attends the Warwickshire DSLs briefings to keep up to date on all topics which included PREVENT • Advice and training is sought when needed
Staff are confident and capable of working with external agencies and sharing concerns about extremism externally	The Prevent Lead makes appropriate referrals to other agencies including the Multi- Agency Safeguarding Hub (MASH) and the Channel Panel.	• Records of referrals are kept on CPOMS • Referrals are followed up appropriately (and challenged if necessary). • DSL knows the process to contact other agencies and expedite concerns about extremism. • All concerns regarding extremism are reported to the Headteacher. • Records of referrals are kept, and referrals are followed up appropriately.
Staff training
Equip staff to identify children at risk of being drawn into terrorism and to challenge extremist ideas.	Assess the training needs of staff in the light of the school's assessment of the risk to pupils at the school of being drawn into terrorism.	• The designated safeguarding leads and Prevent Lead undertakes Prevent Awareness Training. Ensure that the designated safeguarding lead is able to provide advice and support to other members of staff on protecting children from the risk of radicalisation. • All staff and governors completed Prevent Training, either face to face or online. • Relevant staff have completed the "General Awareness Training on Channel". (Referred to in the DfE guidance cited below).

IT Policies
Ensure that children are safe from terrorist and extremist material when accessing the internet in schools	The school has policies in place which make reference to the "Prevent" duty.	• Online safety policy • Acceptable use policy • Preventing bullying policy • Pupils are encouraged to report any material they come across online which makes them worried or uncomfortable. • IT safety and monitoring systems, for example: • The school IT network has appropriate filters to block sites deemed inappropriate or unsafe • Local Authority IT services are used and checked • School email accounts are monitored
	Children are taught about on-line safety with specific reference to the risk of radicalisation	• The curriculum reflects this duty.
Building children's resilience to radicalisation
Ensure that pupils have a "safe environment" in which to discuss "controversial issues".	Pupils develop "the knowledge, skills and understanding to prepare them to play a full and active part in society".	• Through PSHE/RSE and other curriculum activities, pupils are able to explore political, religious and social issues. Pupils are taught about the diverse national, regional and • ethnic identities in the UK and the need for mutual respect. Relevant staff are aware of the government guidance : • https://www.gov.uk/government/news/guidance- on promoting-british-values-in-schools- published/
The curriculum promotes British Values and a culture of equality	Clearly identified opportunities to promote British Values and challenge extremist ideologies	• Opportunities to promote British values are clearly identified within all curriculum areas and through the full safeguarding curriculum (incl. 3D dimensions curriculum) • Use of PSHE or RSE lessons for sensitive and supportive discussions on radical issues and extreme ideologies • Our behaviour policy clearly sets out that hateful behaviour is not tolerated. • Staff know how to respond to witnessing harassment and abusive behaviour. • Pupils are encouraged to challenge harassment or abusive behaviour among their peers
